Publications Get ACP Score Rating

The Associated Collegiate Press report of our yearbook, the Battlefield, and our newspaper, the Bullet, is in. The rating received by the Battlefield was First Class, or excellent. The Bullet earned a Third Class, or fair, rating.

The Battlefield's First Class rating for this year is an honor rating and it entitles the annual to an honor certificate that is presented by the National Scholastic Press Association.

The purpose of an annual is to present an accurate, complete coverage of the year's activities through pictures. It was the judges opinion that the 1953 Battlefield was of excellent standard in portraying Mary Washington's college life in this manner.

The Bullet received a Third Class rating. A superior rating was given in features; it was said that "the excellent variety and quality of the editorial page rates extra credit." Excellent ratings were earned in "news coverage" and "creativity", in "news values and scores", and "covering and treatment" on the sports page.

The judges commented on the excellent features "both on campus life, activities, and the school." Also, the historical articles on Fredericksburg were well approved. It was stated that the editorials on campus affairs were good.

25 Candidates Nominated For Mary Washington May Court

Even though snow gives everyone wintery feelings, there are still high hopes for May—with its May Queen. Whom will she be? Here are the students' choices. Which senior will you pick as most attractive and queenly?

Shella Patricia Bainbridge hails from Wallington, Vt. She is a Spanish major and her activities consist of Spanish Club (secretary 1951-52, pres. 1952-1953, and vice pres. 1953-54).

Betty Ann Bartz's home town is Great Neck, E. I. and she plans to major in speech and dramatic arts. She is a member of the Newman Club (social chairman), Dramatic Club, and Mike Club.

Carolyn Jane Barnes is from Richmond, Va. Art is her major field; her activities consist of Y. R.A., Art Club, Glee Club, Athenaeum, Battlefield staff and she is secretary of Glee Club and Athenaeum, and vice-pres. of the senior class.

Sally Augusta Burton claims Alexandria, Va. as her home. She is a dramatic arts and speech student; her hobby is swimming, and speech and English are her favorite subjects.

Grace Hamilton Cumming, from Newport News, Va., has scientific leanings. She majors in chemistry and is pres. of the Science Club. She is also in the Glee Club and in Y.

Mary Helen Kerr lives in Triangle, Va. That's right—near Quantico. Her father is a colonel in the Marine Corps.

Mary-Ellen DeBaun comes all the way from Alpine-On-The-Hudson in New York. She is majoring in art and likes the phys. eds., English, and philosophy next to art.

Julia Ann Graham claims Beckley, West Va. for her home. A music major, Judy also takes part in Mu Phi Epsilon, Student Government, Interclub Council, Cap and Gown, and Alpha Phi Sigma.

Eleanor Elting Gumbart is from far away Santa Monica, Calif. and is also a dramatic arts and speech major. Her outside activities consist of Zeta Phi Eta (Cameo reporter), Alpha Phi Omega, Play-ers (pres.), and Mike Club (music director).

Anne Jacqueline Holmes is from up the road and over the hill, in Falls Church, Va. Anne is a psych. major, but finds time to participate in other things. She is Social Chairman of R.A. this year and was Stu. Gu. Representative last year; she is also Historian of the class at present.

Geraldine Dawn Holsten is a Yankee from the Bronx. Her top field is business administration and she is the pres. of the Home Economics Club and vice pres. of the Fencing Club.

Justine Huncke, another New Yorker, is majoring in the Dramatic arts. She is publicity head for Players and belongs to Hoofprints.

Nancy Jean Miller comes to us from Purcellville, Va. English is her specialty, Y. R.A., and Stu. Gu. her sidelines.

Carolyn Elizabeth Osborne, from Springfield, Va., is majoring in art, and minoring in Y.

Mary Lou Puller, a Richmonder, is majoring in Psych. but loves to swim in her spare time.

Helen French Roberts hails from Alexandria. Along with her major, music, she is in the Madrigals and is an Alumnæ Daughter.

Jeanne E. Rowel lives in Surry, Va. Although psych. takes up most of her time, Jeanne is in the Terapin Club, and is copy editor for the "Battlefield." In the past, she was sports editor of the "Bulletin," freshman counselor, and on R.A. council.

Mildred Ives Russell flies to M.W.C. from Tacoma, Wash. She is a speech major and this winter weather should please her, for she loves to ski.

Oyster-Bowl Gems

Two M.W.C. buses, crammed full of band members, color guard, and majorettes, left for the Oyster Bowl in Richmond on Oct. 30th at 7:30 P.M.

Somewhere around the "witching" hour of 12:00, the Naval Base rose in the distance and the buses stopped in front of the Wave's barracks, where the girls were to spend the night. Everyone slept in one large room, partitioned off into sections containing two double-decker bunks, two tables, two chairs, and four very small wardrobes (and we think we have very little closet and drawer space!) One of the Waves kindly informed them that they'd best not flick their ashes on the floor—the entire building would be demolished in 5 minutes.

By one o'clock, MOST everyone was in bed (except for the more talkative, fun loving souls), but promptly at 6 A.M. a loud bell clanged everywhere at once. First thought was—FIRE DRILL—and people leapt from upper decks, groping madly for two towels and a long coat. Who had dropt the ashes? No. Wrong thought. Was only the daily arising bell. What a relief! or was it?

After a quick dressing and rearranging of faces and hairdos, both the M.W.C. band and the band from Radford began the 5-mile hike to the Mess Hall (I mean 5-block hike). Have you ever eaten off trays instead of plates? Well, the sailors do and so did the un-naturally-minded "music makers."

The only recognizable piece of equipment provided was a bowl for the cereal, which was, by the way, an appetizer for the pork and beans. And have you ever eaten with a shovel? That's the term for a large tablespoon.

After they had finished eating, the girls carried their trays to the kitchen, where the silverware and bowls were thrown into large kettles filled with a water-peasoup-looking mixture.

With stomachs full of pork and beans and cereal, the band began the hour-and-a-half march through Norfolk. Slight accident occurred—head majorette, Tamara Hayes, split her tights (luckily, needle and thread were fairly handy). Oops! Also, one Flute Player on the back row got befuddled by one of the parade clowns, dressed as a blue devil (and was he ever!). He should have learned that it only takes one to play the flute—not two!

After the parade was over, the band got their second nourishing meal of the day—box lunches consisting of one or two appetizing sandwiches, a candy bar, and other enticing foods. This was to hold them through the next event—the football game.

At 1 o'clock, M.W.C. tooted out onto the field, did a counter-march, accompanied a women's drill team, and returned to the bleachers on the north end of the field—facing the sun. Is it any wonder that two girls got sick? Since the first-aid kit wasn't quite sufficient, they were taken to a doctor's home—with a freshman "nurse" in tow to help out.

Anyway—after all the "gems" of misfortune which occurred, the members of the band had to admit that they all had a "marvie" time—even if M.W.C.'s other half, U. Va. did lose the game!

A College Girl's Trip

By Shirley Warren

A scurry of packing,
Hasty checking of clothes,
What's been forgotten?
Shoes, toothbrush, hose?

The last minute search
For one gold earring,
Everything's in a mess,
I can't find a thing!

Please call me a taxi
And buy me a book,
My roommate's gone running,
I take one last look.

My suitcase is packed,
Now where is the key?
How things can get lost
Is a mystery to me.

I finally get ready,
My taxi is late.
Things all going wrong,
Can this be fate?

I get to the station,
And run for the train.
What's that stuff falling?
No, No! Yes, it's rain.

The trip's long and tiresome,
It really is boring.
A baby is crying,
An old man is snoring.

The conductor goes through,
He's calling my station,
I await the arrival
With great anticipation.

The sun is now shining,
Everything is just great.
I'm met at the station
By a sweet boy from State.

The packing was murder,
The train trip was rough,
And getting parent's permission
Really was tough.

But no matter what—
I'm here to proclaim
That all fuss and bother
Was not done in vain.

The week-end was perfect,
My date was divine.
"Dear Mom and Dad,
I had a wonderful time."

of I.C.A., association chairman and treasurer of Y, pres. of Fencing Club, on R.A. Cabinet, and on Stu. Gu. Council.

Frances Louise Smith, from Norfolk, has a great liking for biology. Frances is in R.A., Y, and Spanish Club.

Rosemary Trotter says Warwick, Va. is her hometown. Psych. is her major; she's also occupied with Campus Chest (secretary), Chi Beta Phi (secretary-treasurer), and band (assistant manager).

Dawn Lee VanBuskirk is a Pennsylvanian from Chambersburg. She, too, is a soc. major and belongs to Eta Sigma Phi, Sigma Omega Chi (historian and vice pres.), Band, Athenaeum (secretary and president).

Martha Jane Vinzant is from Richmond, Va. She is an economics major and has been in the May Court before.

Barbara Ann Wilson, a Floridian from Punta Gorda, is majoring in psych. She is in Chi Beta Phi, Terapin (pres.), Alpha Phi Sigma, Cap and Gown, and R.A. (vice pres.).

Edwina Louise Wright comes from Rhoadesville, Va. and is majoring in psych. Her activities cover R.A., Y, B.S.U. (council member), Psych. Club, Glee Club, and Campus Chest (vice pres.).

R. A. CLIPPINGS

The tennis tournament is still progressing well and winners last week were: Dianne Holland, Kit Johnson, Maude Nevins, and Jayne Schwartz.

Practice starts the 27th for the Volleyball tournament and anyone who gets in two practices is eligible to play in this tournament. There will be practice every day from 5 to 6 and from 7 to 8. The tournament will begin November 2nd, and there will be dorm teams competing. Anyone who is interested can get in touch with the R. A. dorm representative or sign up on the poster in the C-Shoppe.

Who? Everyone, - Devils and Goats.

What? Speedball—This is the activity that combines soccer, basketball, football, and football.

When? Every day Monday thru Friday; practices at 4:30.

Where? Athletic Field.

Why? Devils? or Goats? Who will take the Big Game?

Participate either as a member of a team or as one of the supporting spectators.

It is November, 1943 at Mary Washington College and a tense crowd is witnessing the fourth round of the tennis tournament. The players are Ruth Hurley vs. "Becky" Woosley and Annie Williamson vs. "Dottie" Breding.

be prepared. Several weeks ago the girls were called out to witness a mock fire rescue by the Fredericksburg Fire Department. Refreshments were served at the firehouse afterwards. Some of the girls marched back (after a false start in the wrong direction) and others rode in the orange truck.

Practice on the rifle range will begin soon for the girls who have their permissions filed. A new outdoor range is being built, and we hope to be able to use its facilities. It won't be long before there will be plenty of sharpshooters around this campus.

Deuce, add, smash, default, game and the matches are over. Woosley defeated Hurley and Breding defeated Williamson. Thus Breding and Woosley will be competing for the championship title. Sunday, the day of the match, arrives. The hills around the courts are packed with the cheering spectators, as Becky and Dottie smash the ball back and forth at each other. The entire game caused quite a bit of excitement among the tennis fans and Woosley, having the upper hand most of the time, won the match, 6-3 and 6-2.

So far in the tennis tournament of '53 there have been very few matches played off, so, "Come on girl, let's get busy and finish playing off this tournament and crown our new champion—M. W. C. Tennis Champ of '53."

Nancy Shope reports that the Golf Tournament is progressing quite well, and according to schedule. Some of the winners in the beginning tournament are Sue Bedall, Scotty Booth, Barbara Crespo, Connie Cigler, Janice Dominia, Pat Emerson, Barbara Fultz, Ann Ahrens, Jane Barry, Carol Bewley, Jane Conolly, Gayle Coppedge, Joan Glover, Jo Heath, Neida Lopez, Edna Long, Diane Holmes, Elaine Peru, and Ann Saunders. Winner of the advanced beginning tournament is Betty J. Lewis and among the winners in the intermediate tournament are Sandra Ball, Ruth Haines, and Carolyn Martin (forfeit).

The MWC band will march in the Toy Parade in Richmond, Nov. 19. Thalhimer's, sponsors of this annual event, will have pictures of the band in their store windows that week.

Publications

In conclusion, it was said that the Bulletin's content, that is, its news coverage, features, editorials, etc., was excellent.

DEAR DIARY

Dear Diary,

I have always said that nothing should be too great to do for a friend and roommate. I would give her my right arm or my freshly drycleaned sweater. I would give her my favorite desert even if I were famished. But Diary, there's a limit to all things! No, I didn't give her my boy friend. She politely took him.

Last Saturday night I introduced Bob to her when he came by the dorm for me. We went out together and had a very fabulous time. But I didn't hear from him for several days. Then today my roommate told me in her sweet little old southern accent that she had received a letter from Bob inviting her to the big dance next week-end. And she had the audacity to ask me if I minded! Oh no, Diary, I don't mind at all. I simply love to have my roommate go with my OAO. The moral of this story is quite obvious: never learn how to dance and you won't regret not receiving an invitation.

I am doing fine in my swimming class, Diary. They only had to pull me out twice today, which is a great improvement over last time. I realize that I'll never be another Esther Williams. I'm too short. I'm getting very good in diving. I can stand up now and go off the side of the pool instead of sitting down. Some improvement, don't you think, considering I've only been taking the course two months?

Everybody in the dorm is either getting pinned or engaged—everybody except me, that is. I hated to feel so "not out to lunch" so I wrote my brother and asked him if I could borrow his fraternity pin until Christmas. I got a very short note back from him. It said, "Dear Bobo: No. Love, Bill."

Well, Diary, my roommate just came in and I have to concentrate on being very cool and indifferent to her.

Your unillustrious author,
Bobo

BUY U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

There's Hope

By Jean Sterling

Whenever you feel down-hearted and blue about your date-life at M.W.C., just take a trip down to the phone-booth in your dorm. Then gaze at the scratched initials that decorate it and a whole new world will open before your very eyes. There is a wide selection from which even you, an M.W.C. girl, can choose any date you want and dream away.

First of all, there are the initials, "A.R.". Could this be that cute, husky-looking tackle on U.Va.'s football team who has been stealing your heart away all this season with his maraculous plays?

But, perhaps you would prefer the slightly more quiet type—like "P. G." from Randolph-Macon who's studying for the ministry.

However, if your heart lies with the military life, I'm sure that "J. M.", that cute cadet from V. M. I., would be a great substitute. All the military pomp is squeezed in him, as shown by his straight neck and head. Maybe you can even hear the band playing in the background; can you?

Far from the V. M. I. military atmosphere is our fun-loving "E. S." from that quaint little college, William and Mary. His sparkling personality really gives this little old college quite a modern touch.

Or does your future point to that distinguished future lawyer at Yale, "D.W.T."? This is one lawyer who could solve a girl's greatest case in her life—meaning, of course, the pur-suit of a husband!

Surrounding all these prized dates are the Marines from Quantico. These boys are running quite a race with U. Va. for top place in our gallery of telephone-booth initials. But best of all are the three initials you scratched yourself one dreary night while waiting for the Call—"M. O. G." (my own guy). He may not be the most brilliant boy, but he's the one who sparks the brightest glow in your heart. Right, fellow in-mates?

By Marion Lee

The Mary Washington Cavalry has gotten off to a fine start this year with large numbers of enthusiastic newcomers and old members under the leadership of Major Cathryn Miller. The new Cavalry members are Edie Baldwin, Barbara Barnes, Judith Bates, Martie Brittingham, Pat Bush, Sue Carpenter, Charlotte Cooke, Judy Cornwall, Valerie Cunette, Marleen Davis, Helen DeMiller, Ann Dickman, Joryn Eaton, Marlie Estabrooks, Shirley Foy, Virginia Farmer, Lucile Fletcher, Gladys Friedman, Diana Fue, Carol Groundwater, Anne Hendricks, Betty Henning, Ann Holcomb, Joy Lowrie, Marion Lee, Janet Malvin, Nancy Martin, Peggy McRoberts, Betty Noel, Merilyn Norquest, Anne Pearce, Sheila Pynn, June Riddle, Ricky Reinsner, Priscilla Ripple, Aldina Rodriguez, Bernice Sigman, Nancy Simpson, Carolyn Six, Donna Stapleton, Lois Ann Todd, Martha Jane Townes, Pat Tutwiler, Jean Urell, Lynn Weisman, Georgia Wertz, Betty Wise-carver, and Pam Woolson.

One of the activities the Cavalry is looking forward to is an auction to be given by the Special Police on November 21. Cavalry will provide entertainment in the form of a variety show and also help with the auction itself. It should be a lot of fun.

There has only been one Cavalry call so far this year, but rumors have been circulating as to another one in the near future, so everyone

Fads 'N Fashions

If you have the post exam blues and need a little morale builder after not quite getting that anticipated grade, why don't you join us in a stroll through Carley's and pick out that new outfit that you will need for the coming holidays.

One of the most important parts of your wardrobe is that extra special date dress, and Carley's can furnish you a fine assortment in this line. A new wool jersey, trimmed in either fluffy white angora or fur would be the perfect dress for that informal party which you have just marked up on your calendar.

If there is an important banquet or dinner-dance in the making, Carley's have just the answer in their many dinner dresses in black taffeta and velvet combinations with both rhinestone and sequin trim, adding just that necessary touch to make the dress just what it should be for such an occasion.

Among their array of afternoon dresses we found an ivory fable princess style dress, with a mandarin collar jacket, trimmed with gold and silver jewels, which would make any girl feel like a Princess. Approaching the large selection of formals, a shimmering gold net dress caught our eye and made us feel almost like the coming festivities were already upon us. There were many other evening dresses of interest also. Vivid reds and soft pastels, as well as sophisticated black net and velvet and the ever popular all white lace dress, for the Ring Dance that is coming up over Thanksgiving.

Before you leave be sure to see the many separates in black velvet and taffeta which combine to make a very chic date dress, or can be worn with many other skirts and jackets.

Now with one final glance we see that fascinating jewelry counter which simply must be investigated further. Then after picking out some of those new earrings for pierced ears and a set of evening jewelry, which we hope someone will give us for Christmas, we leave Carley's not with the blues, but with a grand feeling that we are all set for any occasion.

PERSONALITY

Have you ever wondered how it feels to be a Dean's List Student for your entire college career? Well, you could ask Mary Chilton, senior from Remington, Virginia, who has attained this much sought after goal. She says that anyone can do it who sets her mind to it, and uses her time wisely.

To add to this very distinguished honor, Mary is also one of the two seniors this year who are doing honors work. She is doing her thesis for this on Georgian architecture in Fredericksburg.

With all of these good grades, Mary has had time to participate in quite a few activities during the last three years. She has served as President and Vice President of the Alumnae Daughters and has been a member of the Inter Club Association and Athenaeum. At the present time she is Vice President of Alpha Phi Sigma, Goat Cheerleader, and Art Editor of the Battelfield.

Practice teaching is taking up a lot of Mary's time right now, and after graduation in June she plans either to continue her teaching, or go on to graduate school.

Elizabeth Mason is the other senior who is doing Honors work.

Bells Ring Out

Virginia Lee Gladden, a sophomore, left Thursday for her home—much in a fluster, thinking of all the many, many things she'd have to do between then and Thanksgiving, when she is getting married. Her husband-to-be is Tommy Savage, a junior at Hampden-Sydney. Ginny Lee has been going with Tommy ever since her sophomore year in high school and at last all her hopes will be fulfilled, the end of this month. After their marriage, they plan to live in Richmond, so Tommy can attend M.C.V. Best of luck to the two of them!

Nell Nederkorn, a freshman, has already heard the bells ring, as she was married to Al Ripley on Saturday, October 24th, in her home town, Aberdeen, Md. Al is from Damariscotta, Maine, and is employed by the Civil Health Service. Since he expects to be leaving for Alaska in a few weeks, he and Nell decided that the best solution to the separation problem (would cost her about $1000 dollars to fly up there and see him and he'll be there for two or three years) would be to get married now. As his wife, the government has to pay the transportation (one advantage of being married.) Nell plans to join him in June.

LATEST COLLEGE SURVEY SHOWS LUCKIES LEAD AGAIN

We're not so formal way out west—
We're casual as can be,
But not casual, just like everyone,
That L.S./M.F.T.!

Mary Ann Schuermann

Last year a survey of leading colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette.

This year another nation-wide survey — based on thousands of actual student interviews, and representative of all students in regular colleges—shows that Luckies lead again over all brands, regular or king size...and by a wide margin! The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better.

Smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better—for 2 reasons. L.S./M.F.T. —Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And Luckies are made better to taste better. So, Be Happy—Go Lucky!

Joe grumbled, "Guess I'll never find
A cigarette I like."
Till freshness and good taste combined
Sold him on Lucky Strike!

Where's your jingle?
It's easier than you think to make $25 by writing a Lucky Strike jingle like those you see in this ad. Yes, we need jingles
in this ad. Yes, we need jingles
—and we pay $25 for every one we use! So send as many as you like to: Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O.

I can't orate like Cicero—
My salesmanship lacks pressure;
But Luckies sell themselves because They're cleaner, smoother, fresher!
